

LECTURER POSITIONS

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at San Diego State University is accepting applications for its pool of Lecturers. The Lecturers will teach one or more introductory mathematics, statistics, and mathematics education courses. Minimum qualifications include a Masters degree in mathematics, statistics or related fields. Salary is commensurate with credentials and experience, and according to University policy. Please fax or mail your letter of application including a statement of which courses you are qualified to teach, a vita, and two letters of recommendation, to:

Lecturer Application

Department of Mathematics and Statistics
San Diego State University
5500 Campanile Drive
San Diego, CA 92182-7720

Fax: 619-594-6746

San Diego State University is the oldest and largest higher education institution in the San Diego region, and has nearly 33,000 students. The Carnegie Foundation classifies SDSU as a Doctoral/Research Intensive university. The Department of Mathematics and Statistics is seeking national prominence in several areas of research in mathematical and statistical sciences.

SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against individuals on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, marital status, age, disability or veteran status, including veterans of the Vietnam era.